

Knowledge workers get more from Microsoft Teams, with Jabra

Meet our Finance Manager, who is responsible for producing financial reports and overseeing investments. He also works closely with his team to develop plans that will support long-term financial strategy. He needs to keep his communication clear, focused and connected.

 8.15am

Our Finance Manager is on the train and reviewing edits to the Quarterly Business Review he needs to present that afternoon. Needing clarification on an important issue – he plugs his premium corded Jabra Evolve 80 headset into his smartphone and jumps on to a Teams call with his deputy. Active Noise Cancellation makes sure the conversation is clear, crisp and decisive.

Happy the day is going well and now at his desk, our Finance Manager joins a weekly digital transformation update meeting with IT and HR. Working confidently and quickly with his Jabra Evolve 80 plugged in his laptop, he shares his screen and navigates to the planner tab to adjust due dates.

 1.30pm

Breaking news from the company's operation in Singapore: and it might not be good. Our Finance Manager shuts out all other business and joins the Head of Communications and his colleagues in Singapore on video conference to find out if the Quarterly Review needs to change. Needing to stay focused, his Jabra Evolve 80 lights up red to show colleagues he is busy.

4.00pm

Now at his desk and fully prepped – our Finance Manager uses Teams on his PC to present the Quarterly Business Review. Dedicated to delivering his message with clarity, and keen to cut out the hum of the air conditioning, active noise-cancellation on the Jabra Evolve 80 helps him to monitor and counter all ambient noise.

The day is almost done. Panic over and objectives achieved. Our Finance Manager gets his finance colleagues together on a Teams conference for a de-brief and a thank you. But seeing that he also has a train to catch, he moves his call to his smartphone and continues on with his Jabra Evolve 80 on the go. He heads for home and carries on the conversation.
